*A Portrayal of College Life at KENT STATE COLLEGE
through the Medium of the
CHESTNUT BURR
the Year Book of the Senior Class.*

Dr. J. E. McGilvery,
President Emeritus of
Kent State University

He commuted 1000 miles weekly from college to college—

KENT owes this man a debt of gratitude. Twenty-one years ago while president of the Western Illinois State Teachers' College, he commuted weekly the 600 miles between McComb, Illinois and Kent. He was president of two colleges. He supervised the clearing of "the hill." With a small group of faculty and students he leveled off the athletic field. He laid the corner stone of Kent State Teachers College. He pleaded with the legislature—he soothed the college creditors—he fought corrupt politicians—he conceived of the idea of making Kent State the registration point of American students going to Oxford University. He went to England with his plan—parliament approved. Victorious, he returned to Kent. The trustees had appointed his successor. Kent has come of Age. Today, this man is President Emeritus of Kent State College. His dream has been fulfilled. Kent has become a University. To this man and all he represents we respectfully dedicate this volume of the Chestnut Burr.

Dr. James O. Engleman
President of Kent State University

Left to right:

Top: B. F. Renkert, Business Manager; Oscar H. Williams, Dean of Liberal Arts College; J. L. Blair, Dean of Education College.

Bottom: Blanche A. Verder, Dean of Women; E. C. Stopher, Registrar; R. E. Manchester, Dean of Men.

Once upon a time,

Kent was very very young the President was Dean of the College, Dean of Men, Dean of Women and Registrar. When summer school started, tents were erected.

Twenty-one years later, six executives assisted by a staff of twelve, administer the scholastic, executive, and financial affairs of a great state University. The original two buildings and the carnival tents have grown to eight modern and beautiful structures.

2nd row, left to right:

Mr. C. E. Satterfield, Mr. E. T. Griebing, Mr. Edward Pake, Mr. Edgar Packard, Miss M. K. Boswell, Miss Nina S. Humphrey.

3rd row, left to right:

Twenty-one years ago the Kent State Normal School had twenty-two faculty members. Today there are one hundred and three men and women on Kent State University's faculty.

The following are those people to whom so much is due since they have worked here "on the hill" from the time classes were held in Kent and Kent was struggling for existence: Dr. J. E. McGilvery, Mr. J. T. Johnson, Mr. C. S. VanDeusen, Miss Margaret Dunbar, Miss Isabelle Dunbar, Dr. David Olsen, Miss Bertha Nixon, Miss Nina Humphrey.

“And These Are the Doctors——!”

MR. E. L. BOWSHER - - - President and Treasurer

F. N. Harsh (Prin.), Dr. A. L. Heer.

Once upon a time the Kent State training school had four primary grades and was located in four rooms in Merrill Hall, and there were five members on the faculty. Kent State has been on the march of progress and the training school is now one of the largest buildings on the campus with a complete grammar and high school course and twenty-six faculty members.

Training School Faculty

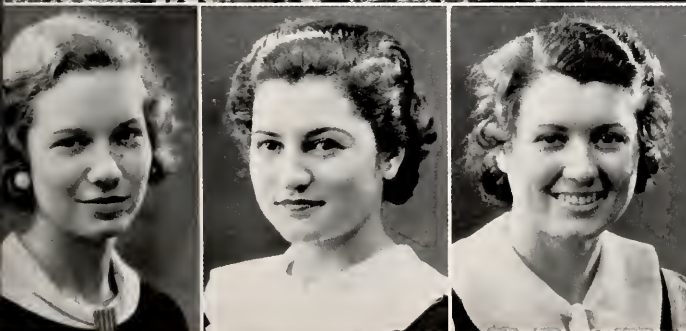

Oh for the life of a college freshman—from the farms, from the villages—from the city, they trek to Kent. New faces, new clothes, new books, no worries, no cares—perhaps a date or two—.

Trying times? The uncertainty of having chosen the right professors—snappy courses—the ordeal of lines, lines, lines—now a shift from one foot to another—only 87 ahead—giving the new room-mate the once over—sight unseen—white uniforms—ether—the physical exam in the dispensary. Then capped and labeled (not blue ribboned—green ribboned)—a sly glance at a keen blond—a half glimpse at a husky athlete—Kent's not such a bad place!

“And Mind the Goldfish—Freshman!”

Freshman Degree

In our glimpse into the past we find the freshman class in a curiously jumbled predicament—there are students called freshmen who are in different stages of finishing their high school work and then those who are real college people. These last are the ones with whom the Degree freshmen most closely correspond. In those days they were the envied few and today they are considered luckier. Fraternities and sororities are interested in four year people—they are the ones who have more extra-curricular activity.

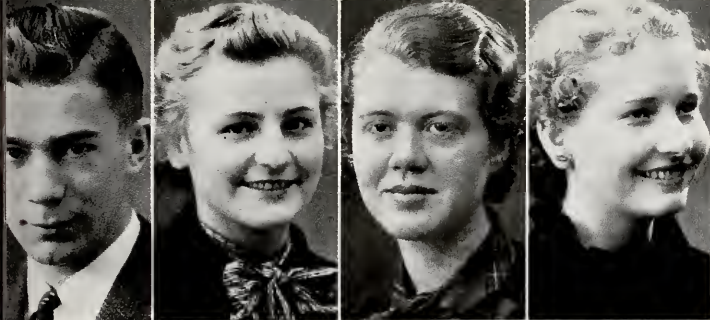

Freshman Diploma Class

The "Tessies" we've been hearing about are contributions from the diploma class but those writers and tellers of "Tessie" tales forget that it has been the two year people who have been the backbone of Kent. It is true the freshman diploma student is unable to enter into the activities that degree students do but without that large group constantly appearing year after year Kent State would not come of age in 1935 as a University.

You were a sophomore once—remember giving those freshmen line-ups the once over. Groups of new fraternity men and sorority women intent on being “real rushers” eyeing a prospect. Sophomore men preparing to take a fall.

The Brady—a commotion at the front door and several nervier sophomores rush in after some freshman “pet peeve” who is nonchalantly sipping a coke—tussle—few yells and the freshman is escorted across the street with the Brady customers and employees following, to see him “take the plunge.” Remember? . . .

1st Row: R. Moran, R. Griffin, J. Page, D. Griffin.

2nd: J. Kerka, N. Carter, P. Boyle, N. Benson, K. Damann.

3rd: R. Miller, W. Smith, G. Dike, F. Fouser, A. Allen, P. Bambaci.

4th: D. Weir, J. Wright, E. Myers, A. Hamrock, H. Gifford, C. Sokoloski.

2nd: A. Cox, G. Holmes, R. Neal, L. Vagnozzi, R. Horton.

3rd: W. Wilenius, W. Helmboldt, W. Mitten, P. Critz, C. Howard.

4th: H. Briola, W. Wardell.

The Degree Sophomore class has more men students than the upper classes and in this second year we see striking evidence of prominent men appearing as leaders of classes and in the student council. The crowning social affair of recent years "The Sophomore Hop" has been managed by a Sophomore Degree man.

Sophomore Degree Men

Left to right:

1st Row: M. Stopher, P. M. Weyer, D. Fitzgerald, M. Bowers, L. Moore, H. Danforth, Z. Rueth.

4th: S. Hum, W. VanOster, A. Biasella, V. Rogers, M. J. Woods.

The Sophomore degree girls have shown themselves to be an aggressive group both scholastically and socially. The Dean of Women finds many sophomore degree girls on her list for outstanding scholarship and as the feature section shows they take no back seat in beauty or social life.

Who is it that you see hurrying down from class to the training school and always burdened with teacher's meetings and lesson plans but lacking that sureness of a senior? Of course it is one of the many girls in the sophomore diploma class. This group is one of the oldest on the campus, in fact since Kent was first known as the home of a Normal college there have been large numbers receiving their diplomas each year. And although this group rarely have the time for outside activities we must give them a hand for without their support many of us would not be here receiving degrees.

The Sophomore Diploma Class

For two years they worked. Now they coast. The impression has been made. Grinds, grades and grumbles have blended into dates, dances and de-merits. A well-thumbed book of etiquette is consulted more than text books or note books. Surely, a Junior is the "joiner" of the campus . . . keys, pins, letters.

Twenty-one years ago there was no Junior's Prom. There were no Juniors and there were few men. Hikes, heart interests in high collars, skating parties at Brady Lake—such Jubilant Juniors.

“Get That Phone Freshman, and Tell Her I’m All Tied Up!”

"COME ON NOW GIRLS

—let's have a new slant on Tri-Sig smiles"—and Alta and Frances flash their best.

HELEN IS TELLING ALL

about her fall "was I embarrassed—but it doesn't hurt now"—Ginny and Marge laugh with her.

"HEY" SAYS JAN KNOTT

—"you're multiplying"—but Dean laughs and laughs because he knows all the time Mac Mc-Dermott can use figures.

"WHAT IS IT HELEN

—why doesn't that cameraman let us in on it?"

OUR LANKY CENTER, McCUSKEY,

and the old maestro folks, Gill Crest, are holding out with smiles but Irwin (Clark Gable) Duff has changed to the "follow thru" method.

"OH, WE KENT MEN CAN TAKE IT"

laughs Leo as he feels snow trickle down his back —"and give it too"—Dick claims. "What's the matter with Cuyahoga Falls?" and Wayne "lays it on."

Top right

OTTO (THE GREAT) SMIRKS

but Tooting Bob, and Paul (Iam) Wise have no fears—Yes, it's the librray but Maggie is out today.

HARRY, THE BASKETBALL MAN,

and Ziegler the honor student are going socialistic.
Ruth isn't fooled—it's only 1:30 and Prexy doesn't arrive until 2:00.

MARION CLAIMS SHE LEARNED

how to do this in Stow but Nell says—"I planted the idea in Hudson but it took Kent to make it bloom".

LESTER AND HAROLD

are looking at something—oh so that's it (this time the cameraman let us in on it)—that glistening air flow belongs to President J. O. and the boys are beginning to wonder when he is going to appear and spoil their act.

POET McCORMICK MUSES

on the beauties of a Spring morning backed in his poetical verbosity by "Chubby" Wallow and "Romeo" Robenstine.

Left, top to bottom:

Alta Bancroft, Frances Day.

Margaret Stoner, Helen Lundeen, Marjorie Breymaier.

Janet Knott, Dean Kisseberth.

Helen Hastings.

George McCusky, Harry Gilcrest.

Richard Tuttle, Leo Lutz, Wayne Wallace.

Right, top to bottom:

Otto Hack, Robert Katzenmeyer, Paul Wise.

Ruth Benedict, Harry Lohr, Harold Ziegler.

Marion Maddock, Vernell Dawson.

Kenneth Robenstine, Albert Walls, Edgar McCormick.

THIRSTY BOYS

Marion and Dohrman—thirsty enough to wait for the fountains to be installed.

DOROTHY, MARGARET,

and Myrtle enjoy a rest between classes.

THREE GUESSES

what is engaging their attention—possibly “Diz” is deep in concentration preparatory to answering one of his many letters and John, all attention, wonders what it is he has.

TWO “K” MEN

—yes it is Read and the post has replaced the crutches—the other man?—quiet Fischer from Akron.

WENDELL IS FROM

the old school—he stands while Bernice sits for the pose—we say there’s plenty of room for two.

Right top to bottom

BETTY, THE ASPIRING JOURNALIST,

a copy of the Akron Beacon Journal, and a big laugh—not an account of any Kent affair by chance?

HARRY AND GEORGE

say they don’t belong to a fraternity that dictates where members walk so they have the right of choosing their own resting places too.

NAUDINE AND DORIS

have just climbed “that hill at Kent” but they can add “and reach the top with a smile”.

WHY BE SO SHY RIETA

and Mary Agnes? Winifred is willing to smile for the photographer.

ANOTHER GIRL WHO MADE A HIT

with the cameraman for a close-up—Martha Smith—students.

Left, top to bottom:

Marion Gardner, Dohrman Maffet.
 Myrtle Heard, Margaret Broad, Dorothy Wiegand.
 Glen Andrews, John Kalkas.
 Gerald Read, Herman Fischer.
 Bernice Miller, Wendell Stribley.

Right, top to bottom:

Betty Parrish.
 Harvey Hanna, George Porosky.
 Naudine Waters, Doris Faulkner.
 Reita Frederick, Mary Agnes Whitely.
 Martha L. Smith.

HOWARD AND RAY,

not steeped in snow, but ready for it—each in his own way.

THE EDITOR BAUMGARDNER

—in the print shop too—my guess is that he is looking for any old Chestnut Burr story to fill the remainder of that column—or perhaps writing himself another letter.

PACKY SEEMS TO

have joined the brief-case group—but anyhow it's pigskin.

LUCILLE A.,

the debating damzel, who pulls votes without any backing.

MABEL Z. SAYS

she is usually at the end of the line or in the rear—here she is, mittens and all, right in front.

ANNE TAKES TIME

from arranging class schedules for the faculty to chat with her Tennessee friend, Justa.

EDWARD S. BELIEVES

in serious poses.

EDDIE G.

must have just heard a new one for his column—or maybe they don't look that happy.

ELSIE, GRACE AND DOROTHY

are the type of coeds who can smile like this on their way into the library—it must be great.

Left, top to bottom:

Howard Andreas, Raymond Arnett.
Robert Baumgardner.
Paxton Whitmire.
Lucille Arnold.
Mabel Zurcher.

Right, top to bottom:

Justa Witherspoon, Anne Bianchi.
Edward Salathe.
Edward Garrison.
Elsie Johnson, Grace Titterington, Dorothy Knox.

THESE GIRLS AREN'T LOOKING for a fourth at bridge. Leota and Carlotta expect to be the winners but our diplomatic debater, Flora Jean, who upsets faction plans assures her partner, Mildred, that they will upset their plans.

HERMAN, THE MIGHTY

tackle is welcomed home by jubilant John with Tab the second assisting.

THE COUSINS

Jeanne and Helen gave our beloved K. S. U. the go by this year and instead are specializing in piano duets. Jane, occasionally leaves her viola to supervise.

AH! OSCAR AND DON

caught in the act of cutting assembly—you would never guess by appearances.

ANAMARY AND ETHEL SMILING

over their (Chi Delt's) plans for a brilliant future.

Right top to bottom.

EVIDENTLY "DIRTY WORK" has ceased for a time because "Jo" is flashing one of her best.

"SEPARATED HERE

by a corner but partners in the dorm and on the gym floor" say Dottie and Marion.

"NO", WE AREN'T

violating rules claim James (who wants a boy-friend?) Jones and "Kelley" (I won't take it) Bamberger—"can't you see we are studying?"

DRAMATISTS

and thesians are we,
Claude (three worder) and Jay E.

Left, top to bottom:

Leota Butler, Flora Jane Sprague, Mildred Heineman, Carlotta Case.

Herman Fischer, John Simpson, Frank Taborsky.

Jeanne Hollander, Helen McGuigan, Jane Smith.

Oscar Dobkin, Dick Bolich.

Anamary Siemon, Ethel Maddock.

Right, top to bottom:

Josephine Cotman.

Dorothy Williamson, Marion Hess.

James Jones, Alvin Bamberger.

Claud Smith, Jay Miller.

NOT THE RAZZBERRIES LIBBY

—be like your sorority sisters Betty and Esther and smile sweetly.

AH! JULIA LOOKING FOR JOE

—or hoping that he brings home the “crowns”.

TWO PILLARS

of the O. C. W. C.—no need to ask if the Pop entertainment was a success.

SORRY TO INTERRUPT,

Margaret, but a picture first and then you can tell Herman and Carl the rest of the story.

THEY SAY THERE'S A SONG

“Smoke Gets in Your Eyes” but Dorothy Jane, Roxanne, and Hazel agree that at Kent one should sing “Sun Stay Away From These Orbs”.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

—Members of the faculty, students, and readers of the Kent Stater (apologizes, Mr. Baumgardner) this is Mr. James Craig, alias Professor Succotash, dictating to another loyal Stater puncher, Alice Wilcox.

FOUR KENT MEN IN A ROW

—a cosmopolitan group—ball tosser and catcher Roy W., manager and fancy dancer Glen J., biologist and non-cimmittal Mike S., and wrestler and waiter Eddie M.

RED-HEADED JOHN McCORT

lives to the creed “If not a throw at least a pin”.

JUST IN TIME

to catch Royal R. taking time. For what? Time out, of course.

MIRIAM AND ELIZABETH

down below, but all set to start up.

Left, top to bottom:

Betty Forner, Elizabeth James, Esther Laird.

Julia Begala.

Mary Meier, Ruth Ewald.

Herman Jones, Margaret Whittlesey, Carl Hageman.

Dorothy Jane Young, Roxane Tullsen, Hazel Starr.

Right, top to bottom:

James Craig, Alice Wilcox.

Le Roy Widowski, Glen Jordan, Michael Serene, Edward Merrell.

John McCort.

Royal Reynolds.

Miriam Gruen, Elizabeth Daskovitch.

OVER THEIR OWN SHOULDERS

—Mary as she always is—but Gullie a bit pensive
—just think of Sweden and gala times.

CLASS CLOSING IN

on Riley R. who seems to be thinking things over.

AND HERE IS

the impartial sports writer and rhythm man—Bill Anderson.

ANOTHER THREESOME—

but neither Margaret, “Smoothie” nor Don would tell us what it’s all about.

CALEB B.,

the diplomatic associate, pauses for a moment.

Right top to bottom.

MADELINE J. SMILES

a real one since she found two hours in a quiet library.

WIMPY DELIBERATING

whether he should send that announcement or just tell a few.

FRANCES W. CAUGHT

as she is about to “step out”.

HELEN G., THE IRISH MISS,

what is it they say about these Notre Dame people being winners?

HERE, HERE BOYS

—right outside the library but Swany nad Chuck don’t seem to worry at all.

Left, top to bottom:

Mary Muir, Gullan Melin.

Riley Runk.

William Anderson.

Clarence Eckert, Margaret Smetz, Donald Cassler.

Caleb Brown.

Right, top to bottom:

Madeline Juszli.

John Page.

Frances Wiggs.

Helen Gallagher.

Charles La Rocca, James Matthews.

Ask him, "Little man, what now?" and the graduating senior will reply, "The world owes me a living."

Not that he intends to embark on a "grasshopper-and-the-ant" career of waiting for the world to present him with his big chance on a gold platter. He is merely asserting his confidence in his ability to secure alone the opportunity and success which he has been told are rightfully his. And it's an increasingly difficult task—he needs that self-confidence.

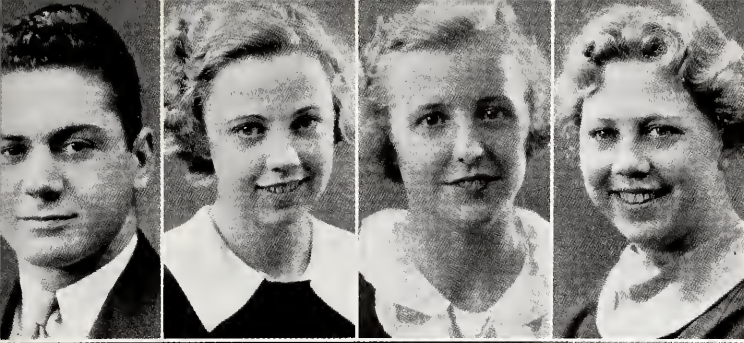

The graduate of today has no illusions about the future. He doesn't expect to follow his descent from the college Hill by a steady rise to fame and fortune. Mention it to him and he'll smile in a worldly-wise way. "That," he asserts firmly, "is the old idea that doesn't go today. Every man of us realizes it's up to him to plug along faithfully till the big break comes. But the break's sure to come!"

It's optimism. It's faith. It's cocksureness. But it's mixed with a good portion of common sense and clear vision. Sure, he'll get there—and he has a good idea how he'll do it.

So donning a business suit in exchange for his cap and gown, the Senior waves farewell to the college and his underclass associates.

"We're leaving this school to you. For four years we've helped run it, and have done a good job, we think. Now it's up to you. And don't forget in your efforts to educate the college, that your primary reason for being here is to let it educate you."

Good advice, too!

In celebration of Kent State's year of maturity and of our reminiscing we note that honorary fraternities played no part in the lives of those pioneer students. Today along with our progress we have on the campus nine organizations in separate fields which serve as foals of achievement for aspiring students. Alpha Psi Omega is the oldest group on the campus and one of the four national.

Honoraries

1st row: J. Miller, Prof. Satterfield, D. Ulrich, Dean Manchester, M. DeWeese.

2nd row: F. Taborsky, R. Nesbit, L. Widowski, K. Scott, F. Bundy, H. Daily, C. Borlet.

Officers

Twenty-one years ago there were very few men students on the campus but those who were here more than served their college in their many novice undertakings. Then in 1932 Blue Key National Honor Fraternity modeled on the principle "Serving I Live" like the Rotarians and Kiwanis Clubs. The Kent Chapter is one of 71 throughout the country and since its establishment has had 85 members. Membership requirements are based on scholarship, leadership, character and activity.

The organization was given commendation at the national convention for their activity last year in sponsoring interest among high school boys in college education. They have continued that work this year but more recently have undertaken the project of an investigation among Kent business men to provide work for worthy students.

"Way back when" outstanding women at Kent worked and progressed without any reward. But since the appearance in 1933 of a chapter of Cardinal Key, national honor activity society, those women students who have been especially proficient in one or more fields and whose point average meets the requirements are permitted the honor of membership.

Dean Blanche A. Verder was the person responsible for bringing a chapter to Kent State. The charter members comprise the presidents of the fourteen woman organizations on the campus. Since then, however, there are two initiations each year in the Spring for the Seniors and in the Fall for the Juniors.

Cardinal Key's activities are varied and numerous, the club arranges and supervises all the activities concerning campus night. Last year they started the custom of crowning a May Queen. This year they worked with Blue Key on fostering the Student-Faculty Relations Committee.

Their biggest achievement this year was their engagement of Miss Amelia Earhart to speak at the auditorium. Previous to the speech the girls entertained her at a banquet.

Twenty-two years ago, a group of young men, in the midst of the intricacies of a Chaldean pyramid formation, conceived the idea that was to be the birth of an organization to stand for the fine things in athletics. Phi Epsilon Kappa was the result.

A year later the World War started. Fortunately for the life of this infant organization its formation was not listed among the causes. Its principles spread and found their way to the campus of Kent where the chapter was formed. Its activities and products go to make it one of the outstanding honoraries at Kent.

Ever since the “Campfire Girls” rushed off the press in their many fictitious adventures there has been a bond between women athletically inclined.

The early days saw the women having tendencies away from the adage of “weaker sex” gathered on the beaches audaciously clad in ankle revealing bathing, or better, wading gowns. Already a feeling of sisterhood arose from the common ground trod by these groups. They all faced the censure of those versed in the ethics of the old school. They were labled “tomboys” by sassy little girls in pink ribbons, and gawking boys blushed furiously as they mentioned leg instead of limb.

Then there came a renaissance that swept even the most elderly of the matrons from their snug fireside seats and knitting to horseback riding, swimming, without the detriment of several petticoats, and the whole gamut of sports. Needless to say many organizations were formed for this newly recognized movement which had turned women’s athletics from an obscene capering to a necessity of good health.

The most outstanding of these organizations is Omega Phi Delta, physical education sorority. This honorary sorority is emblematic of all that is fine in women’s athletics and is well represented at Kent State. It is one of the furthest outposts in the advance from fireside parchesi to healthful organized sport.

Pi Kappa Delta the most recent of Kent's honoraries is the national honorary speech fraternity at Kent. In the first year it has been on the campus it has been more outstanding than any other Ohio chapter.

The debaters on the campus who are members won the championship of the province of the lake which includes two colleges from Maine, one from West Virginia, one from Pennsylvania, seven colleges from Michigan and eight other Ohio conferences.

Two men were sent to New Orleans where they held an exhibition debate before a national association of speech professors. The speeches were so excellent that they are to be published in the "Intercollegiate Debates" the yearbook of college debate which is used as a source book for college and high school debaters.

Shortly after Kent State saw its first Kent Stater a group of new students formed an honorary journalistic fraternity to be the goal of which those proficient in writing could be members.

Today the fraternity has only twelve members because the requirements demand a higher than average scholastic rating for membership.

The group does not function socially but are at present working on plans to become a national organization and also to establish at Kent a third publication which is to be devoted to literary pursuits not included in the weekly or annual publication.

It is also their aim to increase student opinion and expression in the college publications.

Although it is not compulsory the president of the organization has always been Editor of either the Kent Stater or the Chestnut Burr.

Beta Psi chapter of Alpha Psi Omega is one of one hundred and twenty chapters throughout the country and was established at Kent in 1929.

The organization functions merely as an incentive for your dramatists and achieves its purpose when in working toward it as their goal those people develop a real interest and love for damatics.

Before becoming a member of Alpha Psi Omega a student must be a member of the Freshman players and Velvet Curtain.

Beta Psi Chapter has the distinction of having as their adviser Mr. E. Turner Stump who has been Grand Director for nine years.

In response to our repeated questioning, we learn that when Kent State started growing there were artists and art lovers, but although the young college had a progressive art department, aspiring young artists who wanted to do something different had to pursue their interests alone.

It wasn't until the Spring of 1932 that the honorary art fraternity was organized to provide a group who were interested in doing special extra-curricular art activities.

Today the fraternity supplies the college theatre with their unusual art scenes for the plays and each month the organization presents a print exhibition in their department. Several exhibits by them have been displayed to visitors in the atrium. Each spring the group travels to Cleveland for the annual Art Museum Exhibition. In addition they assist and take the place of the faculty during any vacancy.

Membership is based upon exceptional ability in art.

Lambda Chi

Who is it that swings campus elections—gives degrees in tong and bridge—endorses sororities—produces athletes, scholars, playboys, friendships and scandal? Who is it that puts life into a college? Fraternities.

They are the organizations that constitute the basis of social and intellectual college life. Local in interest and organization (except Iota Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma) “frats” offer to the college man an education exclusive of text books and professors. A priceless experience that is cherished throughout one’s lifetime—ask any fraternity man.

Kappa Mu Kappa, the oldest fraternity on the Kent State campus, was founded in 1922, the outgrowth of an older non-secret organization.

Under the direction of Alex Whyte, honorary member, the big white "K" which is so conspicuous on our campus today was erected as a lasting memorial to the Kent Men's Club and to Kappa Mu Kappa.

Iota chapter of Kent State's only national fraternity was established in 1927 with the local organization known as Gamma Tau Delta as its foundation. Previous to the founding of the later organization, which occurred in 1926, a non-Greek letter fraternity existed called very brightly "The Midnight Suns." The "Midnight Sunners" organized in 1925 and one year later decided to go Greek letter.

The alumni chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma, numbering among its members many men outstanding in several lines of endeavor, is very active in maintaining the contacts and friendships formulated at Kent State.

Sigma Tau Gamma

In Kent's infancy days the girls had cliques and clubs but sororities were banned from the campus. However, the girls felt the need of the groups so strongly and largely through the work of Dean Verder they appeared and forced the administration to recognize them. Today there are seven nationals and two local sororities at Kent State University.

The Biology Club is open to those students doing outstanding work in the field and this year it has functioned in the place of Beta Zeta, the honorary which is inactive.

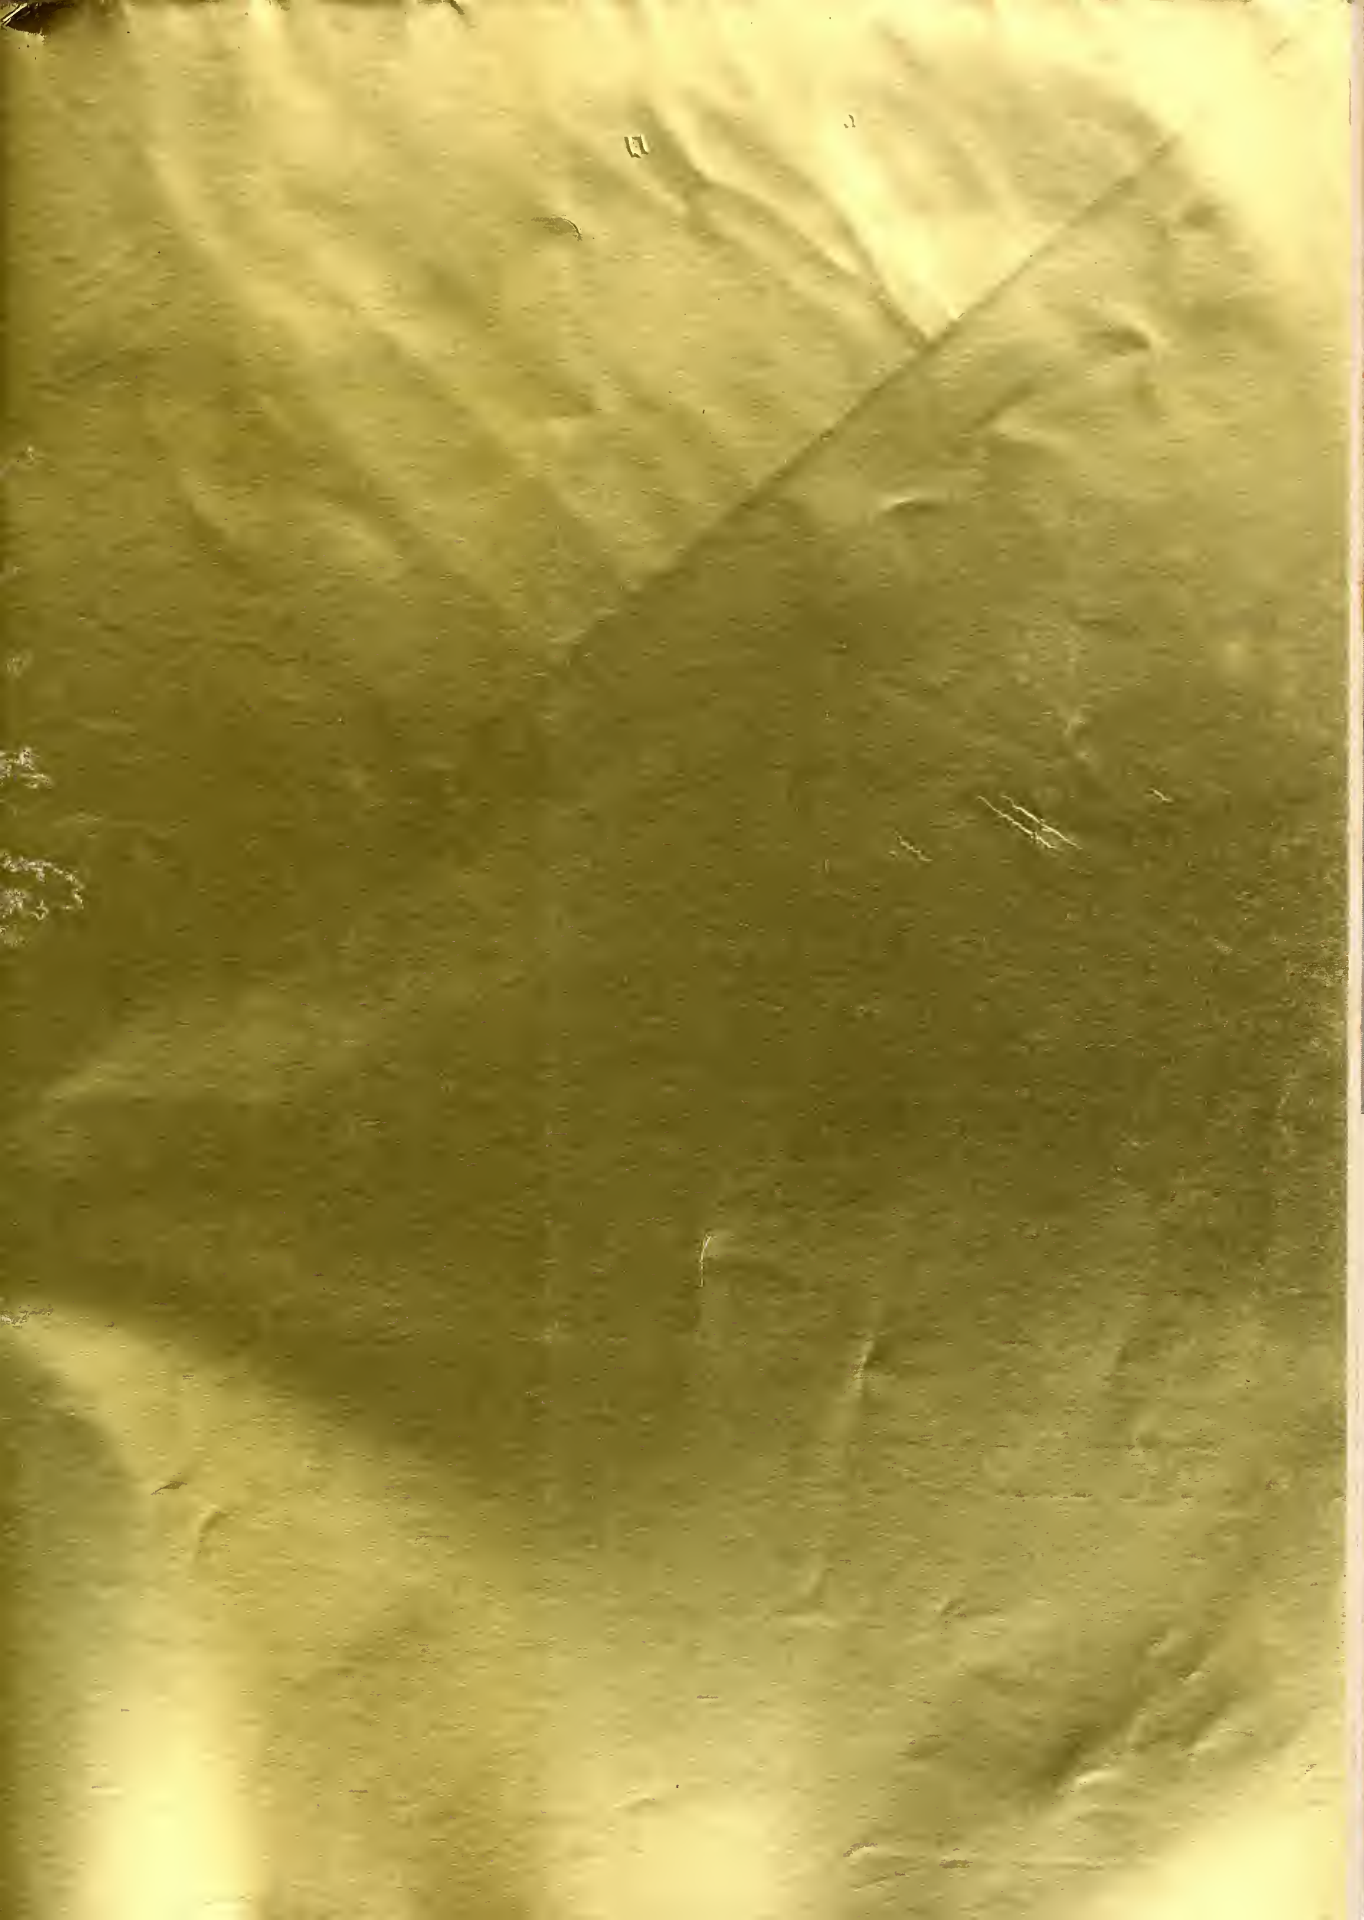

The activities are so divided that one meeting is given to student discussion and the other to hearing prominent men in the field speak.

In addition the group make several trips to places of especial interest to them and hold certain social events.

The Biology Club

Turning back the calendar we find several organizations on our campus but the number is eclipsed when we count over thirty organizations today which offer to the Kent students an opportunity for social life and individual work along every type of collegiate activity.

Kent has come of age and the Student Council which was once a name for a group of students who carried out the plans of the faculty has become the dictating force on the campus.

It is this organization, at present composed of four members from each of the upper classes and two from the sophomore and freshman classes, who authorize and supervise all college elections.

This past year they conducted the largest single election in the history of the college and unlike the elections in the past, efficiency and honesty characterized all elections.

A new constitution was adopted with a system of carry-over of certain members to provide experience for the succeeding year's council.

This year the Kent State Council became a member of the National Student Federation of America. Martha Holbrook and Robert Baumgardner attended the convention in Boston.

Another innovation on the campus this year which was sponsored by the Student Council were the student forums which gave all students an opportunity for free expression on vital campus problems.

The Student-Faculty Relations Committee was created through the efforts of this body and a new and enlarged "K" book was written for 1935-36.

Before concluding an unparalleled year the Student Council supported the greatest movement that has occurred in Kent's history—backing the bills which made Kent State Kent University.

First it was the "Kentonian," a feature magazine which appeared weekly on the campus; then the "Searchlight" which was an independent student paper and which promised its readers that it "would continue for many years, since it was the true voice of student opinion." But suddenly after six months the "Searchlight" mysteriously disappeared, and in its place the Kent Stater started in 1926. Since then it has increased in size and style and was recently accorded All American Honor Rating and First Class Honor Rating by the National Students Press Association.

Kent State always had a year book and those first publications were photographic gems with large sections devoted to high collared and mustached faculty and women professors with hair piled high—the men students were among the few and those who were here were athletic wizards often holding varsity berths on the football, baseball, and basketball teams. The scene changes somewhat and in place of the old fashioned posed group pictures, the Chestnut Burr tries to present students in familiar poses and have the year book be a true depiction of campus life.

Pan-Hellenic

Since there were no sororities twenty-one years ago there was no Pan-Hellenic. But when in 1926 two national educational sororities appeared on the campus a Pan-Hellenic was established at Kent. Sororities appeared rapidly and today there are nine on the campus. This group is a very influential factor in the life of most girls since it dictates the policy and activities of their sororities.

Today Pan-Hellenics throughout the country are using the service which Dean Verder wrote for the local group at Kent.

Women's League

The largest organization on the campus is the Women's League organized in 1914. Every woman student is a member. The purpose of the league is to establish a firmer bond of friendship and the promotion of matters pertaining to the women of the college. The League sponsors the Big and Little Sister Teas and the New Year's Ball.

Men's Union

In Kent's infancy stage there were only a handful of men of the campus hence there was little need for a Men's Union. Now every man in college is entitled to membership in the organization which holds an annual Father-Sons banquet, is in charge of promotion of all men's activities, conducts contests and presents awards. This group is also supervised by the Dean of Men and the Executive board is composed of representatives from every men's organization.

Inter-fraternity Council

Twenty-one years ago there were no fraternities at Kent but today the Inter-fraternity Council functions as a governing body for all Greek letter social fraternities in their relations with one another. The group is under the supervision of Dean Manchester and is comprised of one member from each fraternity.

In those other year curriculums permitted only study for child development and education of another type. But Kent is still marching and with it keeping time is the French department with all its classical courses and—for those proficient enough—recreational activity in the French Club. This group of about twenty hold discussions and plays in French.

German Club

One of the newest departments in the University is the German department. Those who have completed their second year of German are entitled to membership in the German Club, and although they are not the largest group on the campus, they are one of the most active. Their meetings are carried on in German. They give short plays, discuss current German affairs and on several occasions have been host to German visitors.

Women's Debate

Women reasoned and spoke logically then and so today they debate and receive honors. The Women's Debate team at Kent has been one of the bright lights on the college's lists of achievements. For two years they won the State championship and although they were not victorious in winning this year, losing the championship to Wittenberg and Earlham they were the only team in the conference who defeated Wittenberg.

They won the Pi Kappa Delta tournament of the lakes in succeeding in all six debates.

Men's Debate

The Men's Debate team won first place in the Northeastern Ohio conference and the same honor in the Provincial tournament of Pi Kappa Delta.

Frederick Bundy and William Smith were selected from among the debaters of the country to give an exhibition debate at New Orleans where their speeches will be published in "Inter-collegiate Debate" the year book of college debate.

Girls have always been interested in home-making and so the Home Economics Club claims the distinction of being one of the oldest organizations on the campus, and having as its adviser, one of the original members of the faculty.

The club was organized in 1916, and in 1928 it became a member of a national Home Economic Association. Today it sends delegates to national conventions and forums. The mbers of the club, through their association and activities, are able to establish a more professional attitude toward both teaching and home-making and can keep in touch with the current topics of the Home Economics world. The girls are especially interested in having their organization mean more than the usual conception of home economics but also wish to have home economics represent anything having to do with home-making.

Last Fall the Kent girls were hostesses to their particular regional conference and displayed a most interesting exhibition.

When Kent State was an infant, there were infants to be cared for but no time for a Kindergarten-Primary Club to manage and plan for them. Today one of the most active organizations on the campus is the one comprised of those girls whose primary purpose is to help increase the education and enjoyment of young children. In addition, they are always loyal supporters of any progressive collegiate undertaking.

This year the high spot, in the projects undertaken of the club, was their success in bringing Rufus Rose and his Century of Progress Marionette Show to the college. The players who hold the distinction of being one of the four largest in the world gave two performances. Children from surrounding schools attended in addition to many college students and faculty.

The club which is seven years old is a student branch of the national body "The Association for Childhood Education" and when possible sends delegates to the national conventions.

The Freshmen Players is really the name given to the members of the College Theatre who are active in dramatics in the Freshman class.

Each semester under the direction of Mrs. Mozena the group presents a one-act play during an assembly period.

This year "Sham" and "Crabbed Youth and Age" were given, and the cast of the latter play made a tour in the vicinity of Kent presenting the play before numerous civic organizations.

What was once a small struggling group who produced the plays on the campus is now replaced by the largest organization on the campus.

The casts for the collge plays are chosen from this group who produce four plays each year. This year "Mid-summer Night's Dream", "Death Takes a Holiday", "The Fool", "Ladies of the Jury", and "Smiling Through" were the plays presented. Besides presenting the plays and engaging in the actual dramatics members of the organization who are interested in make-up and stage craft gain valuable experience. The group holds a dance each semester.

They once called the Manual Arts department the "department on wheels" because at one time or another with the exception of Moulton Hall and the Library they were located in every building on the campus including the power house. The department was at one time in one room and it now covers all but two rooms of the foundation floor in Merrill Hall. It is from this department that those students who wish to do special work in manual art work form the club. Besides supervising the re-conditioning of all the college furniture and equipment the members work on special projects. They also issue a yearly magazine which keeps the alumni in touch with new phases of manual art work.

Girls' Band

Second only to Oberlin College, which is one of the oldest and most outstanding music colleges in the country, Kent State University's music department this year organized a co-ed band.

The group intended to take part in parades but lack of uniforms prevented them and instead they played for all the college plays.

Athletics

Change is hardly an adequate word to describe the transition in sports from the days when football uniforms resembled your grandmother's horse hair sofa, to the present, when silk has taken the place of canvas in the well dressed grid hero's attire.

Many were the hearts of fair coeds that beat wildly, in spite of five petticoats and a bustle, when the hero of the home team broke loose from the flying wedge and galloped down the field using his brass knuckles efficiently enough to discourage all opposition. The ability to grow a flowing mustachio and the skill required in retaining the same through a football season were the marks of a real man then.

In sharp contrast to this organized bone breakers society going under the caption of early football, is the present day science of tactics pertaining to the offensive and defensive gridiron game.

Uniforms have been made feather-weight. The ball, formerly a mere indication of who would be carried off the field next, has been re-designed for more open play and passing. The rules perhaps have changed the most and have been the impetus for our modern scientific, strategic football.

Humanitarians also played a part in the transition that turned football from organized brute strength to the science that it is today.

Football

Inconsistency was the keynote of the 1934 football season. The performance turned in by the Golden Flashes was marked by moments of brilliant breath-taking action interspersed throughout the general grey-ness that characterized the entire year, in which an average of .400 was turned in. Two victories, three ties and three defeats.

Opening the season against a theoretically superior Muskingum eleven at New Concord, in a night game before a crowd of 4,000 rabid fans, the Begalamen battled their opponents to a deadlock. Though Muskingum had plenty of what it takes to produce a winning team, the Flashes played a waiting game, and when opportunity for the home team knocked, they made the 1933 Conference runner-ups look like a distinctly second rate outfit.

In the second game of the year, Akron University's team, powerful on offense, and extremely wide awake on defense, drubbed the Flashes thoroughly to the tune of 26-0. Though they held the Zippers scoreless in the first period, the Flashes were forced by sheer power to allow the Bucktleites to score once. The other three scores came as the result of erratic play on the part of Kent.

Taking advantage of an Otterbein fumble in the first quarter, Kent's gridgers converted the visitors miscue into a touchdown, added the all important point after goal, and wound up with a victory of 7 to 6 over the Otters. For the first time in the season the offense really clicked, and the defense was up to its customary high standard.

Displaying their wares on the College Athletic field before a large crowd on a chilly, sleety afternoon, the Flashes were held to a scoreless tie by Ashland's Purple Eagles. It was in this game that one of those rare thrills that glorify football came. Fulton Scott, sensational sophomore back, broke through Ashland's left tackle on the Kent 25, eluded half a dozen tacklers and advanced the ball 49 yards before he was finally downed from behind.

The most satisfying of all the season's games was played November third, Fall Homecoming day, when an inspired Flash eleven brought the large assembly of alumni, students and visitors to its feet time and again as they scored in each quarter to wallop the Hiram Terriers 26-6.

Completely outclassed in a brilliant exhibition of passing, line plunging, and defensive football, Kent went down to defeat before a superior and highly favored Baldwin-Wallace eleven to the score of 39-0.

Ending the season with a sour note, the Flashes fell before the Purple of Mount Union 7-6. The Kent team took the lead early in the contest but a failure to convert the extra point proved fatal.

GERALD READ

Manager Senior

Gerald Read, senior, held down, with a high degree of success, the least thankful position connected with athletics that of manager, in spite of severe handicaps.

WILLARD FOUST

Guard Sophomore

One of the Flashes' most aggressive linemen, Willard Foust, sophomore guard, accounted for a good deal of the really tight defensive work of the entire team.

ROY LANDIS

Tackle Senior

Roy Landis, senior tackle, is one of the most versatile gridders ever produced at Kent. Played every line position except center with equal ease and ability.

FULTON SCOTT

Halfback Sophomore

Fulton Scott, sophomore halfback sensation who repeatedly thrilled Kent fans with his brilliant running and tackling. Scotty promises much for the years to come.

HERMAN FISCHER

Tackle Junior

Herman Fischer, one of Kent's most dependable and alert linemen. His fine playing saved Kent at several crucial moments during the past season. A junior.

HARRY GILCREST

Center Junior

All-Ohio Mention

All musicians aren't softies. Harry Gilcrest combined rhythm of the ballroom with that of the gridiron, to waltz his way to an All-Ohio mention.

DON RANNEY

Halfback Sophomore

One of the better newcomers to the backfield, Don Ranney, sophomore, was considerably hampered by a severe brain concussion suffered early in the season.

PAXTON WHITMIRE

Tackle Junior

Packy Whitmire, solid, substantial tackle, whose fine offensive line smashing enabled the backfield to make long gains on off-tackle spinners. A junior, meriting approbation.

MARION DeWEESE

Tackle Senior

A fine tackle, Marion DeWeese deprives Kent of one more year of real service by completing his course in three years; strong on defense.

ROY WIDOWSKI

Fullback Junior

All-Ohio Mention

Roy Widowski, the freshman prodigy, displayed a real brand of football all season, receiving an All-Ohio mention for his junior year. A triple threat gridder.

WALTER WOLFE

Halfback Senior

All-Ohio

Heralded as the greatest line plunging halfback in Kent's history, Walter Wolfe, senior, has won the All-Ohio honor citation twice in the past two years.

Standing: Andrews, Mgr., Wright, Scott,

Absent: Widowski, Gardner, Gilly.

Basketball

What to do when a necessarily fast moving machine looses its spark plug was the problem that faced head basketball coach "Gus" Peterka at all too frequent intervals during the 1935 basketball season. Highly powerful energizing forces such as Bob Flanders, Victor Gilly, and, for a period of several games, Harry Lohr, were lost to the Golden Flash five. Meeting the situation, Peterka discovered and developed new driving forces from raw inexperienced material and pulled through a tough 14 game schedule with the best team record since 1929—8 wins and six losses.

Kent's first game of the season took them to Bowling Green College. Here the untried Flashes played a ragged game and came out on the short end of a 41-36 score after two overtime periods. The following night, facing Toledo University, Kent staged a spectacular scoring spree climaxed by a thrilling last minute shot by Bob Flanders that connected to give Kent a 24-25 victory.

It was at this stage of the basketball season that Bob Flanders, judged the best player to ever wear the Blue and Gold, and Russel Clark, promising forward, were lost to the squad through infraction of training rules.

Fenn College of Cleveland invaded the Kent hardwoods next and fell victims to the Kent attack to the score of 25-27.

It was not an unexpected defeat that the Flashes took from the highly rated Mount Union team. Classed as possible conference title winners the Purple Raiders bottled up the Kent players efficiently and scored with ease. The final score was 46-19.

Standing: Meyers, Coach, Minarchick, Knipe, Magic, Cobb, Markley, Reister, Snyder.

Seated: Kavalik, Garner, Reiley, Miller, Pinyoun, McGinnis, Sheche.

Season

Toledo University found revenge for the defeat suffered at the hands of the Peterka-men when they came to Kent and squirmed through forty minutes of hectic basketball to win by a score of 25-22. Facing the traditional rivals of Kent, the Hiram Terriers, the Golden Flash five discovered a scoring punch that had been missed in the earlier games. Victor Gilly, diminutive forward, was the driving point of the attack as the Terriers fell 32-42.

The defending conference champions, Akron University, came to Wills gym highly classed as probable repeaters in winning conference honors. It was only in the last few minutes of play that the Zippers were able to gain a lead on the fighting Kent team and the final gun found Akron ahead 29-24.

Kenyon fell among the victims of the Kent attack smothered by a 24-51 score, but Mount Union again downed Kent 34-24. It was only a last minute barrage of the basket that put Mount in the lead.

The next three games were won by the Flashes with ease. Hiram fell for the second time 44-23. This game was marked by the loss of Victor Gilly and Earl Harris, two reliable players. However Don Ulrich fitted nicely into the line up and the combination proved successful. Capital fell twice in successive weekends. The first game 32-44, the second, 28-34.

The Ohio conference leaders, Muskingum, downed Kent 35-22, in a home game but the Flashes recuperated to give the Student Princes of Heidelberg a 45-24 trouncing in the final game of the season.

K E N T S T A T E

DON ULRICH

Don Ulrich, playing his last year with the Kent team, showed himself to be a most reliable forward. He was aggressive and a fine shot.

AL HAMROCK

Figuring prominently in every game, big Al Hamrock, in his first year of varsity competition, was one of the prime factors in the Kent offense and defense.

GEORGE McCUSKEY

When it was necessary for Kent to have the tipoff it was George McCuskey who was called on. McCuskey constitutes promising center material.

ROY WIDOWSKI

A steady and consistent guard Roy Widowski, displayed in every game the all-around ability that placed him on the All-Ohio honorable mention.

BILL DeWEESE

In his last season with the Flash five, Bill DeWees showed the same quality of play that distinguished him as being on the top.

JOHN SCHARF

An outstanding candidate for the center honors was John Scharf. In the last game of the season he broke into the lineup and showed real scoring ability.

BILL KELLER

It was opportunity to Bill Keller when Harry Lohr was forced out of the regular lineup. He made a most successful debut at Capital.

HARRY LOHR

Leading his team in scoring, Harry Lohr was the scoring power behind almost every victory. Also outstanding on the defensive phase Lohr made All-Ohio mention.

FULTON SCOTT

Fighting spirit seasoned with experience made Fulton Scott the outstanding player that he showed himself in the 1935 season. He placed third in individual scoring.

HOWARD DAILEY

A cool and calculating floor man, Howard Dailey was a dependable, experienced guard.

PAUL BOYLE

In his first year of varsity competition Paul Boyle showed promise of becoming one of the finest defensive artists to play on the Flash team.

Standing: Begala, Coach, Kegler, Gruskey, Rinaldi, Carter, Baumberger, Wolfe.

Sitting: Scott, Johnson, Taborsky, Eckert, Hack, McCort.

Insert: Littlepage.

Wrestling

A colorful chapter in the archives of Kent athletic history is wrestling. Rising from a mere vision to heights that have made it one of the most popular, most successful sports on the campus, wrestling, under the guiding hand of Joseph Begala, continued in its quality of output and swept through its 1935 schedule of nine meets undefeated.

In its first meet of the 1935 season against Detroit Tech, the Flash grapplers showed the power so characteristic of the whole year's work and smashed through the eight man team from Michigan with ease winning by a score of 38-0.

Waynesburg was the next victim on the schedule for Kent. Despite pessimism expressed as to the outcome of the meet by coach Begala, the flash artists rode the W. and J. outfit to a 31-3 defeat. The lone loss of the evening being by Bob Johnson in the 118 pound class, losing on a short time advantage.

Akron University's infant wrestling team afforded poor competition for Kent. The only questionable bout being in the 135 division, where "Smoothie" Eckert was hard pressed to gain a short time advantage in an overtime.

There was much excitement and prognostication as to the outcome of the session with Michigan State. This was the school that tripped Kent's string of wins last spring, but when the smoke had cleared away Kent had avenged itself and the score as 17-13. Featured in this meet Standing: Dunlavey, Manko, Bradley, Snyder, Grogro, Bradler.

Kneeling: Warren, Housman, Soorbreough, Dowding, Kneif, Polli.

Sitting: Graven, Paymer, Brown, Sherman, Stribble.

season

was the return of Fred Scott and Ivo Rinaldi, veterans in the 145 and heavyweight classes respectively.

Two meets in one weekend were next faced by the Flash grapplers. Case and California State teachers college were the subject for the Bengala genders. Case fell before the Blue and Gold onslaught 23-3, the only loss coming through Jay Littlepage, 155. California State teachers, in its second year of wrestling, proved unequal to the strength of the Kent eight and were shut out 38-0.

It was pupil over pupil when Thor Olsen, wrestling coach of Ohio U saw his eight star students beaten by the proteges of Joe Begala, his former wrestler and understudy. The match was closely contested there being no pins. The final score was 16½-7½.

Washington and Jefferson's band of wrestlemen fell before the powerful drive of the Kent attack with a shut out 30-0. The final match of the season was a return meet with Case and resulted in another shut out, the score being 28-0.

Taking a full team to the interstate tournaments at Washington and Jefferson University, Begala repeated last year's performance and turned the meet into a Kent affair coping team honors and individual honors. Taborsky, Scott and Rinaldi successfully defended their titles and new champions were "Smoothie" Eckert and John Gruszecki in the 135 and 175 classes respectively. Unable to defend his 155 title was Jay "Texas" Littlepage who was on the injured list. The five Kent champions went to the nationals at Lehigh University but were unable to place.

K E N T S T A T E

FRED SCOTT

Fred Scott, 145 pound inter-state champion for two years, has shown the Kent fans the scientific, driving style of wrestling so characteristic of Begala proteges.

JOHN GRUSZECKI

It was only illness that kept John Gruszecki off the mats during several meets and he showed his ability by winning the inter-state 175 pound title.

GEORGE HACH

There has never been a more colorful, clowning wrestler than the powerful George Hach, who won the heavyweight and 175 pound classes with equal success and ability. Hach was undefeated.

JOE TABORSKY

Little Joe Taborsky has always been a favorite of the students both on and off the mats. He successfully defended his inter-state 126 pound title.

JAY "TEXAS" LITTLEPAGE

The Texas cowboy, Jay Littlepage, figured prominently in all of the Kent wins. Because of injuries obtained in the Ohio U. meet he was unable to defend his 155 pound Tri-state crown.

ED KEGLER

A most reliable 135 pounder was Ed Kegler. Substituting twice for "Smoothie" Eckert, regular, he won both matches. Kegler also won the several exhibitions in which he participated.

IVO RINALDI

The return of Rinaldi to school the second semester relieved Begala of his worry of the destiny of the heavyweight class. "Bing" successfully staved off opposition from his inter-state throne.

NORVIN CARTER

New to varsity competition this year, Norvin Carter in the 165 pound class, won nine straight matches, and took third place at the inter-state tournament.

JOHN McCORT

Versatile is "Red" McCort. Last year he wrestled well in the 135 pound class. This year he filled the 145 pound until the return of Fred Scott. He won second place in the 155 pound inter-state meet.

CLARENCE ECKERT

"Smoothie" Eckert was Kent's undefeated 135 pounder. His style was always aggressive and it led him to the inter-state 135 pound title.

BOB JOHNSON

The flyweight position was ably filled by Bob Johnson. He went to the inter-state tournament and helped Kent win team honors by copping second place.

Gym Team

Two victories and three defeats was the record made by the golden flash gym team this year. The tumblers under the able tutelage of coach George Altmann opened the season at Cleveland where they meet their first loss of the season at the hands of the Germania Turners. Old dame fortune seemed to have taken a vacation as they dropped their second encounter to the Akron Turners, but again joined the squad on the return meet. A few weeks later Kent won their second victory from the Akron Y. M. C. A. Ohio State's classy tumblers had little trouble in overcoming the flashes in their last contest.

Those who participated in the meets and made their letters were: Robert Burns, George Holmes, George Neal and William Kegler. The whole team is expected back next year.

Baseball 1934

With coach Gus Peterka at the helm, the flashes took four of the six games scheduled although the 1934 college nine lacked an adequate field on which to show its best brand of baseball.

Kent lost to Ashland in the opener 8 to 7. The game was Kent's until the last inning. Meeting the Wooster Scots in the second game, Kent upset the dope bucket and won 8 to 5 when Joe Taborsky cinched the game with a home run. On home coming day the Kent Staters blew up the Toledo rockets 6 to 2. Clay and C. Harrah performed brilliantly. "Doc" Straube's tight pitching in the next two games gave the flashes verdicts over Findlay and Fenn. The Woosterites gained their revenge in the last game, giving Kent a 13 to 0 setback.

Golf

With the aid of Coach Joe Belaga the undefeated 1934 golf team brought to Kent State College its first Ohio Conference championship.

Meeting Wooster at Wooster country club, Kent easily overcame the Scot golfers 12 to 4. Mount Union was the next victim of our niblic swingers being overpowered by the score of 11 to 5. On a return match with the Woosterites Ulrich led the golden flashes to a 16 to 0 win. Bill Gressard was the shining light in the next victory over Mount Union.

Playing Akron at Loyal Oaks, one of the most hazardous courses in this vicinity, Kent again came out on top. Kent won the return match on a forfeit, and with it the championship of the Ohio Conference.

Tennis

Although Coach Joe Begala had three veterans as a nucleus on which to build a strong combination, the 1934 tennis team did not fare as well as pre-season predictions, winning only three out of the eight matches.

Muskingum administered the flash racketeers their first taste of defeat in the season's opener, winning by a score of 4 to 2. However, the gold flashes counteracted by outplaying Mount Union in a spectacular contest. Hiram and Baldwin-Wallace, boasting strong court teams and little trouble in subduing the flash netters. On the return match Mount Union again felt the pangs of defeat. The Kent team suffered two more defeats at the hands of Muskingum and Hiram, but managed to win from Baldwin-Wallace in their last game.

Its strength based on membership open to all women of the college, the Women's Athletic Association has grown steadily since its foundation. The Kent chapter of the National Women's Athletic Association was brought to this campus in May, 1928, with its aims "Play for Play's Sake" and intra-mural competition for women.

Previous to this, two organizations, the Buccaneers and Musketeers, conducted athletics for women. In 1926 they went beyond sports to all women's activities, honors, health, and studies.

The larger organization is divided into numerous sub-groups of team sports, individual sports, and dance groups. Each group elects its managers seasonally.

Women's Ath

U N I V E R S I T Y

The activities are divided into three seasons—fall, winter, and spring terms, putting the activities in their proper times for interest and adaptability to conditions.

This year the Women's Athletic Association has begun a new plan of entertainment based on plans of all larger colleges—the mixed play night. Monthly meetings are sponsored by men and women of physical education organizations for all men and women of the college to enjoy lesser competitive sports. Kent's Women's Athletic Association has found these play nights successful in bringing about a closer understanding and companionship between the men and women in the field of sport.

If We Can Help You

WHETHER YOU go into business, teaching or something else, questions may occasionally arise concerning trees and problems of tree care.

When such questions are encountered it may be that we can furnish counsel, literature or some other helpful cooperation.

In any event, we hope that you will always feel free to let us know whenever we may be in a position to give you special assistance.

To the graduating class of 1935, we extend our earnest best wishes.
