Master Control

Master Control is the technical hub of the television facilities at Kent State. This office houses the edit suites used by the production staff, the faculty edit suite, and duplication of VHS & CD/DVD discs, as well as many interconnects with eTech Ohio and NETO, Channels 45 & 49. Master Control also houses two downlink satellite dishes, and fiber optic connections to send video directly to the Kent State Student Center, as well as a mobile unit that can be used almost anywhere on campus.

Master Control also has the playback and record controls for the two fully equipped television studios located in the Music & Speech Center.
